Parsons, Mrs S W

April 1918

(13)

Northcote Apartments,
256 Jarvis Street.
April 3rd 1918.

To
Sir Robert A. Falconer, C.M.G.,
President of the University of Toronto.

Dear Sir, It is not within the bounds of expectancy that you should remember me, but I have a happy memory of a little informal tea after you had spoken at the Women's Canadian Club at Hamilton in the Winter of 1914. At that time I was "on duty" with the Recruiting campaign. Last night at the O.P.A. you referred to the War Lecture Bureau. It will be of immense value to me to get these leaflets. It has been my privilege to talk War-Work & Allied - Since 1914, and real telling information is almost priceless. I have drawn very few across the Strings of fact and fancy. Hope and despair, Encouragement and pathos in my endeavors to strike the chord that will find an echo in the deep down patriotism of every heart.

Trusting you will put me on the list of local recipients — or even use me if you see fit

I have the honor to be,
Sir.
Your obedient Hy,
Lydia M. Parsons.

(Mrs Horace W.)

12

April 4th, 1918

Mrs. T. N. Parsons,

Northcote Apartments,

256 Jarvis Street, Toronto.

Dear Mrs. Parsons:

I have asked Mr. Voigh, the Secretary of our War Lecture Bureau, to send you the leaflets that have been issued and also to put you on the list of those to whom they will be regularly sent. I am sure that you will find that there has been much valuable information in these leaflets, and I am glad to know that you will be assisting in spreading the information because at the present time our people need it.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.